

4.84 million

– Singapore's population. This marks a record 5.5% increase, the fastest ever

Jump in number of foreigners. Number of PRs grew 6.5% and citizens, 1%

8.4

The number of people aged between 15 and 64 for each person aged 65 and older. This number reflects the burden on the working-age population in supporting the elderly and is down from 10.4 in 1998

23,966

The number of marriages registered in 2007, the highest since 2000

950

The average number of Singaporeans who give up citizenship each year

153,500

The number of Singaporeans working and studying overseas, many of them in Australia, UK, US and China