

■ MORE TO BENEFIT WITH NEW SCHEME

CURRENT SUBSIDY LEVELS

Four income tiers

- Incremental subsidy level of 25%-points from one income group to the next (0%, 25%, 50% and 75%)
- Extends to middle income Singaporeans with a family income of up to $5,200 per month (for a family of four) at the upper end and from $1,320 at the lower end.

| Total family income(Based on family of four) | Subsidy level |
|--|---------------|
| Between $0 and $1,320                          | 75 %          |
| Between $1,321 and $3,200                      | 50%           |
| Between $3,201 and $5,200                      | 25%           |

NEW SUBSIDY LEVELS

Nine income tiers

- Incremental subsidy level of 10%-points (75%, 70%, 60%, 50%, 40%, 30%, 20%, 10% and 0%)
- Extends to middle income Singaporeans with a family income of up to $5,600 per month at the upper end and from $1,440 at the lower end

| Total family income(Based on family of four) | Subsidy levelfor citizens* |
|--|--------------------------------|
| $1,440 and below                                | 75%                            |
| $1,441 - $2,200                                | 70%                            |
| $2,201 - $3,000                                | 60%                            |
| $3,001 - $3,800                                | 50%                            |
| $3,801 - $4,600                                | 40%                            |
| $4,601 - $5,200                                | 30%                            |
| $5,201 - $5,400                                | 20%                            |
| $5,401 - $5,600                                | 10%                            |
| More than $5,600                                | 0%                             |

* Permanent Residents will receive 10%-point less subsidy