

My son, fresh out of university, found a job in this downturn.

Congrats! It's every parent's dream that their kids can finally support themselves.

Not when his starting pay is so low that I still need to continue giving him pocket money...

