

A survey finds that consumers are expected to spend a total of $769 this Christmas, and that was exactly how much I forked out.

But you paid only $69 for a box of chocolates for your girlfriend.

Then my wife found out, which resulted in me spending an additional $700 on medical bills.