Medical experts pinpoint psychological worry as the main cause

DO NOT FEAR KORO...

A PANEL of medical experts today pinpointed psychological fear as the main cause of the current Singapore koro epidemic, a retraction of the male sexual gland.

This was their official medical finding at the Ministry Press conference here yesterday.

There have been allegations that sex was the real cause.

SINGAPORE, Monday

As for the retraction, they said, it was due to psychological worry and did not have any medical basis.

The panel, led by Dr. Yap Moew, president of the Ministry of Medical Services, said the previous diagnosis of sexual gland, or koro, was incorrect.

Dr. Yap Moew, however, said that the retraction was due to psychological worry.

Rumours

The panel said that rumours that koro is a sexual gland was incorrect.

In fact, Dr. Yap Moew, who was the panel chairman, said that koro is due to psychological worry.

Injury

The panel also said that the psychological worry was due to fear of injury.

Dr. Yap Moew said that the psychological worry was due to fear of injury.
